Dear Prof. Mandal

Asian Polymer Association (APA) has a tradition to honor polymer scientists across the globe during its annual conferences every year (www.asianpolymer.org). One of the awards is APA Young Scientist Award (YSA) which will be presented this year in Goa. The process of the nominations & their evaluation was monitored by Dr. Manohar Badiger, NCL, Pune. After a long process of screening, the committee has recommended your name to be conferred with this award. We are glad that this recommendation meets requirements for this award to one of the most creative and dynamic polymer scientist at International level.

On behalf of APA, we would like to congratulate you for this achievement and would invite you to participate in APA-2019 conference in Goa. As a part of this programme, we invite you to deliver Invited talk on this occasion. We would be privileged to provide you complementary registration towards your participation in this conference. It is a great moment for all of us to see you as the recipient of the APA Young Scientist Award and we look forward to welcoming you in Goa during APA-2019 conference in October 16-18, 2019 (www.apa-stermi.iorg).
