Ravi Mokashi Punekar is a Product Designer and Professor at the Departmentof Design, IIT Guwahati, where he is currently teaching in their three academic Design programs for the last 20 years. After an early stint in industry, he joined the Faculty of Industrial Design at the National Institute of Design in 1986 and was teaching in the Product Design descipline of the Faculty of Industrial Design. He is actively involved in Design Research and Product Design and Development activities. In addition he has held responsible administrative positions at IIT Guwahati as Associate Dean (Student Affairs') 2002-05; Head of the Department of Design 2005-09, Chairman, Faculty of Industrail Design, National Institute of Design, Ahmedabad, 1993-'98 and on the board of academic studies for three leading institutions.